Missouri Cattlemen's Association · 573-499-9162 · www.mocattle.com

The Missouri Cattlemen's Association led legislation that expands the equine liability waiver to include livestock. This revised law adds protection to all livestock farm and ranch families and states a sign must be posted on the premises. We encourage all livestock owners to make a small investment for a sign that offers protection for your family farm or ranch. Equine professionals already owning a sign will need a new sign to comply with the law.
